THE RIVERSIDE

MESTEAD ASSOCIATION!

OF

EAST PORTLAND, OREGON,

OW PREPARED TO RECEIVE SUBSCRIPTIONS their Stock

ication for ONE HUNDRED SHARES was made the books were opened, and a large number of have been taken.

following extracts from the Oregonian and Bulletin convey a good idea of the plan and workings of sociation, the location of the land, etc., etc.

RIVERSIDE HOMESTEAD ASSOCIATION.

s association of whose organization we gave count a few days since, is now ready to dis of shares. As it is with one exception, (the and Homestead Association,) the pioneer or ation of that kind in this city, it may be enough to state what are its purposes, and anner in which it is proposed to conduct its tions. The purposes of these Home ciations are not at all speculative in the ey sense of the word. They are depe e profits of their investment upon the natu dvance in the value of their lands, conse upon the co-operation of many individuals reholders—and the advance on values of all unding lands by reason of the expansion of ation and demand for room outside of, but near, the city. The Riverside Homestead ciation has a fraction over one hundred and y acres of land situated just south of klyn on the east side of the river, the near oundary line being about one mile from the landing at East Portland. The tract lies e strip along the Wallamet river, half a mile ngth, and another strip along the Oregon and ornia railroad, half a mile in length, the two being connected near the middle by two of blocks (with a street between them,) the s forming a figure not unlike the letter H. divided into 74 blocks, 200 feet square (with s running at right angles) and 80 fraction ts, along the river front. The shares num 00, worth $60 per share. It will be seen that re thus represents nearly a lot with an undi interest in the 80 fractional lots. The 80 frac l shares are to be sold off at the proper time he benefit of the Association, shareholders ng in for the proceeds in proportion to the ber of shares held. When all shares are and the Association shall deter to, do it, the choice of lots and blocks be put up at auction to the highest r, the proceeds of such sales, after deducting riginal price of shares or lots, to be divided lly among the whole number of shares. , if a person wants a particular lot or block, s willing to pay $100 or $300 premium (more s as the case may be) he pays it and takes ot or block as his individual property, the ium being divided among the whole number areholders. It will be seen, therefore, that thing is co-operative, and all interests mu . No man can make a dollar out of it with ut making a dollar for every other equal holder. There is no chance for loss, unless roperty, by some chance, should depre below the first actual cost. Whether this is to happen in the case of this particular of land must be judged by each for himself onsidering the steady and unprecedented ad on real estate in this city and neighbor , and at East Portland and vicinity, for the year or two, it seems hardly possible for s to go back.

the Riverside Association all proper precau seem to have been taken to guard against polies of shares. No person is allowed to more than the number of shares representing blocks, or twenty-four lots, and votes de ning the operations of the Association are oted in the same manner. The buyers of may pay down $60 per share, which will pt them from all assessments, or they may 15 quarterly with an assessment of $3 per payable with the first installment, being In this latter case to another (and only one assessment of $3 per share. Upon the ent of the shares in full, with the assessments ove, the holder is entitled to his certificate his proportion of all the profits accrued from . No officer of the Association shall pay for services except the Secretary, who 25 per month; so it will be seen that the ses must be light.

at part of the tract lying along the river is plateau, nearly level, about 60 to 80 feet the water. There is no part of the front f blocks but commands a splendid view of and and the river for miles up and down n. That part of the tract lying along the ad is, every foot of it, of the richest loam nd adapted to gardening purposes. A beau ittle stream of pure water runs through t the entire length of this wing of the tract, ing the means of irrigation, and power suf t to supply pure water to every part of the tract. There is not a waste lot or fraction the entire tract. Under all these advan , it would seem impossible that there should y chance of loss to shareholders. Within a each shareholder, if he choose, may get a t title to as many lots as his shares may sent, or he may continue his interest, until , with the Association while the org may exist.—Oregonian.

E RIVERSIDE HOMESTEAD ASSOCIATION.

have been laid to make these remarks from the at the subject of making homesteads on the out of this city and East Portland, is being thoroughly ed here among all classes, and one homestead—the side," just south of East Portland—has already stablished. The site selected is a tract of land lying ttle over a mile south of the ferry landing. It is like the letter H, one side of which, a half mile th, borders on the river.

n this portion of the homestead, which is elevated ight above the other prong of the H, but is still e fifty feet above the river, can be had an extensive of Portland, East Portland, the shipping, and llamette river for several miles. The land is very and is partly covered with light fir timber. A land just wide enough for two rows of blocks, avenue between them, connects the west prong H (which has already been described) with the lo . This last tract of land is in a beautiful little which is now under a high state of cultivation. t its whole length runs a trout brook, the water h is clear as crystal. With a hydraulic ram the ation proposes to have water conveyed through every portion of the homestead.—Daily Bulletin.

EASTERN DATES TO OCT. 22.

Another Rumor about Metz.

VERSAILLES, Oct. 20.—The Journal, published by Germans here, confirms the report that Gen. Boyer's visit to King William was to treat for the surrender of Metz.

NEW YORK, Oct. 22.—The Telegram has London advices from Tours. Bazaine has made a successful sortie from Metz, and was in rapid march with his whole army to Paris.

The Democrat has advices from Metz that the Republic has been proclaimed, and that Bazaine, while endeavoring to restrain the Republican manifestations, had been shot.

General Dispatches.

LONDON, Oct. 22.—A dispatch from Amiens to-day, announces that the Prussians are only three kilometers distant. Every preparation has been made to defend the town. A special train, laden with ammunition, was passed through Amiens to-day from Lille, going to Rouen. Bourbaki is expected to leave Lille to-day for the same destination. He has 50,000 men under his command.

The American ambulance corps has been given to understand by the Prussians that its aid is not wanted.

A dispatch from Tours, dated 10 P. M. yesterday, says the Papal Nuncio has arrived in that city.

The camp at Tours is to be reviewed in a week. Reinforcements are constantly arriving.

The Prussians now occupy Georgeau, near Orleans.

Nearly the whole department of Haute Loane is under the control of the Prussians.

No news has been received from the seat of war to-day.

BRUSSELS, Oct. 22.—The Belgium Moniteur officially denies that the Government has received any note from Prussia complaining of the tone of the Belgian press, or that there is any lack of cordiality in the relations existing between the two countries.

The people of Chateau Neuf have refused to answer the repeated requisitions of the Prussians. It is understood that the Prussian commander sustains the action of the people.

The Arc de Triomphe, at Paris, is now, to all intents and purposes, an iron clad fort. The work on the structure was completed a day or two ago.

LONDON, Oct. 22.—The armistice at Messieres ended yesterday at three o'clock. The bridge over the Meuse will be blown up to day, but the bombardment will not be commenced until more troops and munitions of war are brought up. The French force within the walls of Messieres is computed at about 5,000.

BERLIN, Oct. 22.—The Staats Anzeiger, of yesterday, in its account of affairs before Metz, says the sickness in the army is due to the quality of food. Dysentery is decreasing, and typhoid fever will go with the present cold weather. Desertions are increasing, the fugitives all giving the same reason—hunger. The investing force of the German armies generally receive abundant supplies of all sorts.

Loss of the Steamer Cambria.

LONDON, Oct. 21.—The steamer Enterprise, from Garston to Londonderry, yesterday picked up a boat at Innbowed, off the Heads, at three o'clock in the afternoon, containing a sailor and the corpse of a girl. The sailor stated that the steamer Cambria, of the Anchor Line, from New York, struck, at ten o'clock on the night previous, on the Irish Trahenill islands, and became a total wreck. Four other boats containing passengers left the steamer, but have not been heard from. The sailor reports that his own boat was upset, and all but himself drowned.

Prussians Threaten Amiens.

LONDON, Oct. 21.—The Department of Somme has been declared in a state of siege. Energetic preparations are being made at Amiens, the capital, for defense. The force of 20,000 Prussians which was advancing on the city has returned.

Movements on the Loire

TOURS, Oct. 21.—Contradictory rumors are flying around concerning the movements of hostile armies on the Loire. The general impression is that the Prussians are no longer coming this way, and that a large force of the enemy is marching on Normandy, where there are fewer troops to oppose them.

Defense of Lyons.

LYONS, Oct. 20.—Orders have been issued to supply this city with provisions for 16,000 men for two months.

Dispatches from London.

LONDON, Oct. 20.—A special correspondent of the Tribune before Metz telegraphs to-day that negotiations for the surrender of Metz have failed, and the envoy has returned to the beleaguered town. Bazaine proposed the surrender of all of his own army on the same terms as the surrender at Sedan, except that the regular garrison of Metz should continue to hold the fortress, thus releasing at least half of the investing army. Gen. Von Moltke refused these terms, because the garrison could hold out longer. An entire surrender is expected early.

Bitsche was yesterday invested by 8,000 men, with heavy guns from Strasburg. The siege is to be pushed.

The Manchester Examiner has a report from Berlin, which needs confirmation, that Bazaine has offered to sell Metz for the regency with the Prince Imperial.

Count Bernstoff, the Prussian Minister has not been recalled from England.

A Prussian attack on Borges is probable, as that city has an arsenal and several foundries.

It is believed that a formal summons to surrender will precede the bombardment of Paris.

From French Sources.

TOURS, Oct. 20, Evening.—It is positively contradicted by the French Government that Boyer's mission to the Prussian King was relative to the capitulation of Bazaine. It is now stated that his object was to urge permission to remove the women, children and invalids from Metz, for the sake of humanity, which request was positively refused.

Official advices from Paris to the 18th show that work on the fortifications, on all sides of the city, has been completed. The French have retaken possession of Vitry, Ville Juif, Cochung, Issy, Suresnes, Pujeaux, Corbevole, Avergnes, Pierrefitte and Staney, and hold the bridge at Joinville, and also Grenvilliers. The fortifications are armed with 214 guns, manned by 13,000 men. In the magazines there are three million kilogrammes of powder. Each gun has a supply of 500 balls.

EASTERN STATES.

National Thanksgiving

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 21.—Thursday, November 24th, has been set apart as General Thanksgiving Day, by President Grant.

Washington News.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22.—It is stated that Assistant Secretary Richardson will go to Europe to negotiate the funding bonds, soon to be issued. His resignation as Assistant Secretary is not yet accepted.

The total loss of the steamship Cambria, which was yesterday rumored, is fully confirmed by later dispatches. There is little to give hope that the passengers who had taken to boats have escaped. The coast is a very dangerous one, but it is evident, from the upsetting of one boat, from which a single survivor of the wreck was picked up, that the sea was very rough at the time of the disaster; nevertheless, those who had friends on board, need not be in haste to imagine the worst. The coast is admirably guarded by expert, adventurous men, and it is not impossible that if the boats were driven ashore, some passengers were saved. Less fatal, but still serious marine losses, are reported this morning on our coast. The late gales were everywhere dangerous, and we may expect to hear of several serious wrecks along the Atlantic and Gulf coasts.

The President this morning had a conference with Secretary Boutwell and Commissioner Delano, the result of which is now definitely determined. Delano will be appointed Secretary of the Interior. With regard to the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, the decision has not yet been made by the President.

CALIFORNIA.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 22.—The Italian Republicans are out this afternoon in strong force, with flags and music, and are now having a grand banquet at Etienne's restaurant. Quite a number of Americans are participating in the celebration of the occupation of Rome with them.

Census Marshal Morris' report states that in round numbers the population of the State is 550,000 and of San Francisco 150,000.

SANTA ROSA, Oct. 22.—The first passenger car, Donohue, of San Francisco, on the North Pacific railroad, arrived here at 3 P. M. to day, from Petaluma, with passengers. Great enthusiasm prevailed thereat. The company will have the road completed and stocked next week.

ARIZONA.

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 22.—The Arizona Miner of the 15th has the following: Col. George Stoneman, commanding the Department of Arizona, and Lieut. Col. Frank Wheaton, leave for California to-morrow.

A party of immigrants, consisting of five families, arrived here from Texas, via the thirty-fifth parallel route, bringing eight hundred head of cattle. Many Texan families have gone to Phoenix, Salt River.

Work on the Prescott and Santa Fe Road is being pushed with vigor.

There are only eleven men now fit for duty at Fort Whipple.

The Government arms, procured by Governor Safford from the War Department for the citizens of Arizona, have arrived and will soon be distributed.

NEVADA.

VIRGINIA, Oct. 22.—A little daughter of Billy Robinson, the actor, set her clothes on fire yesterday while playing with matches, and narrowly escaped burning to death. Mr. Robinson had his hands severely burned in extinguishing the flames.

There was a light fall of snow here this morning.

WADSWORTH, Oct. 22.—The first load, 9,000 pounds boron, or borate of lime, from near Columbia District, Nevada, arrived here to-day. This is a new discovery, and is supposed to be immensely valuable. Preparations are being made for large shipments to Swansea.

THE TERRITORIES.

The Olympia Tribune says A. S. Hill, a Chehalis valley farmer, harvested six acres of wheat this season, and realized sixty six bushels per acre.

An Owyhee paper has this item: Instead of having a number of strings to her bow, there is a young lady on War Eagle who has sixteen beaux to her string.

A Boise City paper: Our old friend Jo Smith, returned from Loon Creek this week, whither he has been this summer, and emphatically avers that "the bottom has fallen out of the country." He says that work has been suspended on all the bars for lack of pay, and that houses are selling in Oro Grande at two bits a piece.

From the Owyhee Avalanche: A large deposit of the richest ore ever seen in camp has just been struck in the sixth level of the Golden Chariot, 80 feet south of the shaft. Fifteen tons of the ore were taken out on Thursday, that at the lowest estimation, will pay $3,000 per ton, and good judges say it will yield from $5,000 to $6,000. The rich streak is about a foot wide, and is known to extend a distance of 30 feet in the stope—how much further, no one can tell. We shouldn't be surprised to hear of Chariot stock going up to $100 in a short time.

A Victoria paper has the following from Alaska: Major J. C. Tidball, of the Second United States artillery, assumed command of the post of Sitka, on Friday, September 23d. Major Tidball has commanded the district of Kenay for some time, and was very much liked and respected by the inhabitants and soldiers. The steamer Newbern encountered a terrific gale of wind while on her voyage from Kodiak to Sitka. The steamer had to lay to about twenty hours, and her decks when she arrived at Sitka presented a terrible scene. They were covered with dead and maimed cows, oxen and mules, showing that their fate must have been horrible. No damage was done to the ship or anything on board except the cattle. The schooner General Harney arrived from Cook's Inlet with a splendid cargo of furs. The Alaska Times was issued for the last time, on October 1st, at Sitka. The U. S. steamer Newbern arrived at Nanaimo and left at the same time as the Otter, calling at San Juan Island. There are 250 passengers on the Newbern, principally officers and soldiers. All the garrisons in Alaska have been abandoned with the exception of Sitka.

OREGON.

Marion county has levied a tax of three and a half mills for the purpose of building a new Court House. 'Tis high time.

The Dalles paper is of opinion that salmon fed to chickens will poison the same as if does dogs. It has had several chickens sicken and die lately, and concludes that it was caused by their eating salmon.

The Mountaineer reports that cattle in the upper country "are fatter this fall than they were last, notwithstanding the drouth that we have had all summer. From this it appears that the bunch grass contains as much nutriment when dry as when it is green, at least it seems so from the fine condition in which we find the beef and mutton that we see every day hanging up in our city markets."

A case of homicide is reported by the Baker City Democrat, which occurred in El Dorado on the 17th. That paper says: The particulars, as we learn them, are as follows: Sometime during the day, John McCourt, Esq., residing at El Dorado, and owning, or claiming to own, some rich placer diggings in Rattlesnake Gulch, while passing along near an empty building in El Dorado, was fired at by some person secreted in the cellar. One or more of the buckshot (it was a shot gun) struck McCourt in the lower portion of the abdomen, close to the pelvic region, from the effects of which he died in about an hour afterwards. Suspicion fastened on Mr. Beatty Fawcett, of Baker City, as the one who had committed the homicide; and he was soon afterwards arrested by Deputy Sheriff Harper, and brought to this place, and he is under arrest at this present writing.

HOW SEA WATER CAME TO BE SALT. The sea is supposed to have acquired its saline principle when the globe was in the act of subsiding from a gaseous state. The density of sea water depends upon the quanity of saline matter it contains. The proportion is generally about three or four per cent., though it varies in different places. The ocean contains more salt in the southern than in the northern hemisphere; the Atlantic more than the Pacific. The greatest proportion of salt in the Pacific is in parallels of 22 deg. N. L. and 18 deg. S. L.; near the equator it is less, and in the Polar seas it is least, from the melting of the ice. The saltness varies with the seasons in those regions, and the fresh water being lighter is uppermost. Rain makes the surface of the sea fresher than the interior parts, and the influx of rivers renders the ocean less salt at their estuaries. The Atlantic is brackish three hundred miles from the mouth of the Amazon. Deep seas are more saline than those that are shallow, and inland seas, communicating with the main, are less salt, from the rivers that flow into them; to this, however, the Mediterranean is an exception, occasioned by the great evaporation and the influx of salt currents from the Black sea and the Atlantic. The water in the Straits of Gibraltar, at 670 fathoms, is four times as salt as that at the surface. Fresh water freezes at the temperature of thirty-two degrees Fahrenheit; the point of congelation of salt water is much lower. The healthfulness of the sea is ascribed to the mixture of the water by tides and currents, which prevents the accumulation of putrescent matter.

LAST NIGHT'S DISPATCHES.

[SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

French Official Dispatches

TOURS, Oct. 22.—The following dispatch has just been received from Chateau Neuf:

Bazaine made a sortie with 80,000 men, crushing, the enemy which consisted of sixteen battalions of infantry and two regiments of cavalry. He also captured 193 wagons laden with stores and provisions of war. Sickness among the besiegers is constantly increasing. The Prussians have been forced twice to renew their army around Metz.

The siege of Verdun was interrupted lately by a vigorous defense of the French. The latter made several sorties and inundated the environs of the town.

Chartres has been surrounded by Prussians, 20,000 strong, with 46 cannon. The Prefect and Mayor arranged with the Prussian commander that the rights of citizens shall be respected.

The Prussians have blown up the bridge at Cleery and returned to camp at Beangency.

The Constitutionnel to-day announces that Lord Lyons, British Minister, made an important communication to the government here. He wishes to be aided by Austria and Italy to affect an armistice in order that the election of members to the Constituent Assembly may proceed. He stated that Russia would act in the same direction, but had not yet returned a formal reply.

TOURS, Oct. 22.—The Prussians are marching on Ameins in two columns. They attacked the town of Vernon, cannonading it from the opposite side of the river.

A correspondent from Paris of the 18th, says the French are strongly fortified in a gap between Mont Valerian and St. Denis, by earthworks and expect soon to make a strong offensive movement.

Lephage of Nantes publish a letter from Brest stating that the American volunteers were treated neglectfully by the authorities upon their arrival. It is understood that strict orders have been forwarded by Government that all volunteers on arrival be treated with the utmost care.

It is rumored that Thiers has gone to Paris to consult with the Government relative to an armistice and peace.

At a meeting of the Council to-day it is reported that the subject of the election of members to the Constituent Assembly was discussed.

It is reported that the Council was informed by Lord Lyons that he had received orders from his Government to announce its desire to mediate in conjunction with Austria and Italy.

London Dispatches.

LONDON, Oct. 22.—London papers publish reports made by deserters from Metz that Bazaine was dead, that Canrobert was in command, and that hunger and pestilence prevailed in the city. The stories are generally discredited. At Berlin, however, the capitulation of Bazaine is hourly expected. It now seems that the overtures he made, looking to a surrender, referred only to troops who had taken refuge at Metz and not to the garrison or the city.

It is reported that the North German sovereigns have been convoked at Versailles to declare King William Emperor of Germany.

A telegram to the Manchester Guardian, dated Tours to-day, says an amistice for a month has been agreed upon, in order that the election may proceed.

Military Movements.

LONDON, Oct. 22.—A dispatch from Lille to-day confirms the occupation of St. Quentin by the Prussians after a short cannonade.

VERSAILLES, Oct. 21, via Berlin, Oct. 22.—At noon to-day a sortie was made by the French from Fort Mont Valerien, supported by forty field guns. They were victoriously repulsed by detachments of the 9th and 10th divisions of infantry and a regiment of Landwehr, supported towards the close of the engagement by the 4th corps. The Prussians captured 100 prisoners and two guns. German loss small.

An official report of the captures made at Soissons, just made public, shows 99 officers and 4,633 rank and file surrendered; 128 guns, 70,000 bombs, 150 tons gunpowder and 92,000 francs, fell into the hands of the Germans.

Prussia's Terms.

LONDON, Oct. 22.—The latest edition of the Times contains a telegram from Berlin stating that Prussia has repeated her willingness to grant an armistice on the principle that the cession of territory will be conceded. The mere dismantling of fortresses in Alsace and Lorraine under European guarantee, is insufficient.

General Dispatches.

LILLE, Oct. 22.—Germans entered St. Quentin yesterday afternoon and made requisitions for two million francs.

Communication with the armies by railway is interrupted.

A force of about 1,000 Germans are at Beaugency.

Murder Trial—Fire—Second Mercantile Lottery—Celebration of the Occupation of Rome—Garroting and Robberies—A Savage Free Fight.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 23.—The jury in the Lloyd murder case came in last night, after being out two hours, with a verdict of guilty of manslaughter.

The Golden State Hotel at Saucelito, burned down on Friday night in a mysterious manner. It was insured for $5,000, and the policies would have expired on the 28th inst.

The programme of the second Mercantile Library Lottery is announced. It will come off at the California Theater November 8th, and the only prize will be a grand piano.

The north wind abated entirely last night and to-day was one of the most pleasant of the season, though somewhat chilly.

The Italian republicans having celebrated the occupation of Rome very spiritedly last night, the Garibaldi Guard, who represent the monarchical sentiment, celebrated to-day. The procession of the latter was not large, but quite brilliant. The Italian Consul rode in an open barouche, following a car surmounted by the temple of liberty, and another bearing the Ship of State in the shape of a full rigged felucca. Following was a very fine car with a large temple of liberty in which rode three young ladies. This temple was surmounted by a finely carved group, life size and gilded, representing the traditional wolf suckling Romulus and Remus. Many Italian flags were displayed in various parts of the city all day.

Miguel Cassares and Daniel Flores were arrested this morning for garrotting another Mexican, Vacquero, from Contra Costa, and robbing him of $200, on the Barbary Coast. Their victim bit Flores on the wrist badly as they struggled with him.

Two Chinamen, carrying clothes to a Frenchman's house to day, robbed it of a purse containing $200 coin, a valuable set of diamonds, etc., and the plunder was found on them. Two more attempted burglary at a house on Commercial street, and being caught at it one jumped from a roof thirty feet without breaking a bone, but both were captured.

A savage free fight occurred on Folsom street, corner of Broadway and Montgomery streets, near Dogbert's, in which Edward Hanlan, a laborer, was so badly beaten with a hammer that his life is despaired of. A man named Quigley was arrested for this exploit.

The U. S. steamer Ossipee, from the wreck of the Continental, arrived this morning. She brings no later news than was received by the Colorado.

The ship Comet, from Yokohama, in ballast, is coming in.

Col Kelly and the School Land Swindle

The remarks made by Judge Olney in the House on Wednesday last on the bill to grant a subsidy for locks at Wallamet Falls go directly to the core of the whole matter. In a five minutes speech he exposed the fallacious basis on which the measure was founded and showed that the result of it would be nothing else than the creation of State indebtedness to the amount of the subsidy, which is entirely unconstitutional. The general course of his argument was that there is no fund out of which to give this company the $200 000. But the State makes a pledge to give the subsidy, the company will go on and borrow money on the credit of that pledge, and the State will be compelled to answer for the amount. There is no "internal improvement fund" out of which the money may be drawn, and the act contemplates the violation of the school lands in order to obtain the sum required. There is the five per centum of the proceeds of the sales of public lands expressly confirmed to the State by the act admitting the State into the Union to be used for internal improvements, but the proceeds of these sales yet amount to an inconsiderable sum, and it may well be doubted whether so large a sum as $200,000 will ever be realized by the State from them. There remains only the 500,000 acres of land belonging to the State and hitherto supposed to be for the use and support of common schools.

But it is now asserted that these lands do not belong to the common schools; that the Act of Congress of 1841 donates them for other purposes, chief among which is that of internal improvements; therefore it is now permissible to devote them to such enterprises as that contemplated at the Falls of the Wallamet. The Legislature of Oregon is estopped from setting up such an argument as this. The eighth article of our Constitution, which refers to education and school lands, expressly states that the five per centum of the proceeds of the sales of public lands and the five hundred thousand acre grant "shall be set apart as a separate and irreducible school fund," in case "Congress shall assent to such appropriation." Now in the act by which the State was admitted the five per cent of the proceeds of sales was expressly confirmed to the State for "making public roads and internal improvements as the Legislature shall direct." Not so, however, with the grant of five hundred thousand acres. Nothing was said about that. The plain inference from this omission is that Congress consented that it should go to the State for a "separate and irreducible school fund," in accordance with the petition in our State Constitution. And this construction of the act is placed beyond cavil by the action of Congress in the case of Iowa. That State, on being admitted into the Union, had made a precisely similar request in regard to this grant of lands. In the act by which the State was admitted nothing was said about the matter. But Congress in a special act subsequently declared that by the act admitting Iowa into the Union the United States had assented to the appropriation of these lands for the support of common schools. Mr Hare, of Washington county, in his speech in the House, was very clear and full in his statement of these and other important facts relating to this matter. It is not for Oregon, therefore, to say that these lands do not belong to the school fund. It is not for Oregon to violate a provision of her own Constitution, containing a contract that was made at her own solicitation.

The Senator elect, James K Kelly, is heavily interested in this job. He is a member of the company that has been subsidized, and will be expected to aid the scheme all he can. Of course he will be desirous to make it appear that this 500,000 acre grant does not belong to the school fund, but is to be devoted to internal improvements. His interest will lie that way. He will, therefore, go into the Senate to aid this job by every means in his power. He will thus be committed by his interest to work for himself and for the corporation of which he is a member, and to try to validate this robbery of the school lands in order that he may reap the profits of the transaction. He will go into the Senate with this job on his hands, and his introduction there under such circumstances will surely be an enviable one!

This subject is a large one, and one that will become very odious before the next election.

The Legislature has "relieved" Union county from the payment of a large proportion of her State tax. A considerable amount of the tax remitted, the Committee reports, "was delinquent poll tax, which was assessed against transient persons from whom it was impossible to collect the same." Yet it is to these vagabond bummers called "transient persons" that the large Democratic majorities in the Eastern counties have been due. These counties govern the State and pay nothing or next to nothing to its revenues. This injustice will not be endured much longer. The most populous and wealthy counties in the State have only about half the representation in the Legislature, in proportion to their population, that the Eastern counties have, and to still further aggravate the injustice the Eastern counties are relieved from paying the taxes due from them. A similar bill is pending for Grant county, and will pass.

Ex-Senator Nesmith is at Salem and is reported to be looking after certain matters of legislation which are displeasing to the Herald. That paper therefore tells him in its own courteous way that he had better be at home, feeding his swine. We do not remember to have seen in the Herald any rebuke of Col Kelly for lobbying in the Legislature for that immense grab at the school fund for locks at the Falls, in which he (Kelly) has a heavy personal interest. It is not at all indelicate or immoral for the Senator elect to assist in swindling the school fund in order to put money in his own pocket!

The election returns in Ohio indicate that Gen Schenck, present Chairman of the Congressional Committee of Ways and Means, is defeated, but it is stated that he will contest for the seat. He should have it. Campbell, his opponent, should be kicked out with as little ceremony as possible. Since the Oregon Legislature has shown us how to do these things we are in favor of doing them up promptly and with no nonsense about it.

But nine Democrats are elected to the [illegible] Legislature. There are hardly more than nine Republicans in the Oregon Legislature since the general "thinning out" by the opposition.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 17.—It is officially announced that Mercer (Republican) is elected for the Thirteenth District, by 123 majority.

Oregon's Congressman

Since the Assembly of Oregon has shown how it [illegible] contest [illegible] its Legislature, Judge Wilson should by all means go to Washington and contest for the seat in the next Congress which Mr Slater claims. Of course the National House of Representatives, if it should follow the example set by our Legislative Assembly, [illegible] Wilson the seat without question [illegible] Mr Slater [illegible] districts of eastern Oregon and Idaho. There is far more [illegible] than there was for the action of the Democratic majority of our Legislature in the Douglas, Benton and [illegible] county [illegible], and the Legislature now remitting the taxes in the eastern counties on the ground that those taxes were assessed against transient persons, and cannot be collected. Yet these transient persons make up the majority by which Democratic candidates have been elected. We hope Judge Wilson will go to Washington and claim the seat, and that Congress will give it to him promptly. He can easily make a better showing than any of those on which contests have been decided in favor of Democratic contestants in our Legislature. A partial list of those transient persons in the Eastern counties who are present at elections but can't be found by the tax gatherer is all he should require. Mr Slater ought not to have the seat, especially since it has been made an established rule in Oregon that a Republican minority in the State Legislature have no rights whatever and are dispossessed of their seats as fast as Democrats come and apply for them.

FROM THE STATE CAPITAL

[FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.]

SALEM, Saturday, Oct 22.

THE OUTRAGEOUS TREATMENT OF MAJOR BERRY

I think it was plain enough from the proceedings the other day in relation to the Penitentiary investigation that there was more a design to put the thing up for partisan purposes than to protect the interests of the State. The Chairman of the Committee stated not only voluntarily but in answer to various inquiries, that the Committee had made but little examination into the affairs and had not even called on Major Berry, and that that gentleman had been afforded no opportunity to explain anything. The Committee, by its Clerk, had examined a couple of books and compared the printed Penitentiary Report with the vouchers on file. They found discrepancies in the figures, and forthwith rushed to the conclusion that a genuine mare's nest had been found. But to show how searching the examination was made it will only be necessary to state that the Committee did not even see (and I presume they did not think of it) the original manuscript report. Had they examined that document they would have understood at once how it happened that the figures in the printed copy did not foot up right. The "discrepancies," as the Committee called them, were nothing more than typographical errors in the printed copy and do not exist at all in the original manuscript. The errors happened in this way. About the time the report was printed Major Berry's wife died at Portland, and he was, of course, excusably absent for some days. Meantime the person who was left in charge of the proof reading went away, leaving nobody to compare the proof sheets with the original. In this way a number of errors occurred, and these were the "discrepancies" which the Committee found. Had the Committee been seeking to be just to all parties, rather than to find something upon which to raise a partisan furore, they certainly must have gone to the original manuscript, which is the report, to see if the same "discrepancies" existed in that. I am told by a person of incontestible credibility that the manuscript copy foots up right, compares exactly with the proper vouchers, and that it cannot be impeached. The almost general impression is not only among Republicans but Democrats who know Major Berry, that when the investigation shall be made thoroughly and as it should be he will show everything in his affairs to be exactly right. Even some of the men who voted to adopt the report of the Committee express in private a belief that Major Berry will come out all right. But the injustice, the meanness of the whole matter consist in the fact that meantime and until the report of the Investigating Committee shall be made to the Legislature Major Berry must rest under the imputations now cast upon him by a Committee who confess that they know really nothing of the truth of the implied charges they prefer. Meantime, too, the ghouls of the Democratic press and stump will howl with demoniac glee over this discovery (!) of fraud in the affairs of a Radical officer. I do not remember to have ever heard of a case of inquiry in which so much of outrageous unfairness was apparent upon the face of the thing. The proceeding was so utterly one-sided, unfair and unjust toward Major Berry as to arouse sympathy for him where probably none would have been given him under other circumstances, and thus the vileness of the calumny carries in itself, to some extent, its own antidote.

HALLOCK GETS HIS REWARD

To day the Governor sent into the Senate the appointment of Absalom B Hallock, Wm F Burke, and John H Hayden, as Police Commissioners, under the provisions of the amended charter. The appointment of Absalom was of course expected by all of you who know how averse he is to having honors of this kind thrust upon him. How often he declined the office, what fatigues the Governor underwent in persuading him to accept, and what pressures were brought to bear, are matters that may never be known to an anxious and inquiring public, unless in the course of human events a biographer shall rise up to record the deeds of the great men of our city. Let the bow gag be brought out and sounded for now the Metropolitan city is redeemed and hath a head onto it. There are to be no more murders, robberies, shootings, cuttings, rollings, stealings (except in an official way) nor any other misdemeanor, disorder or unpleasantness. Thieves, roughs, bummers (of the impecunious kind) are to be known no more forever—not while Absalom reigns.

ASSISTANT TREASURER OF STATE

The bill to create the office of Assistant Treasurer of State having become a law, Willard A Holbrook of Portland was to day appointed to that office by Mr Fleischner and sworn in.

NOW AND THEN

To day the bill to amend the charter of Portland so as to allow the city to contract an indebtedness of $300 000 in aid of the Astoria, McMinnville and Portland railroad was passed by the Senate. During the discussion Messrs Stout and Baldwin spoke in opposition to it. They were particularly horrified because the matter of assuming such indebtedness was not left directly to the people of Portland. Mr Baldwin, especially, thought it an outrage of the most "stupendious" proportions—such as he had never before seen, and which he hoped God would not permit him to see again. These gentlemen had evidently forgot the time a few days ago when they throttled the people of Portland (at the solicitation of a few repudiated politicians and against the protest of the people) with a police government having its head fifty miles away. Neither one of them then thought it at all important to have the consent of the people to a foreign government which has no responsibility whatever to the people of the city. Verily how wonderfully consistent these Democratic gentlemen are. To day they object with uplifted hands and indignantly modulated voices against amending the charter without giving the people a "say." The other day they had no scruple about amending the charter arbitrarily, taking the government out of the hands of the people and vesting it in the hands of a foreigner, without giving the people a "say." Well after all there is to be a difference 'twixt tweedledum and tweedledee.

NEWBY GETS A CHANCE

Apropos of the above, Mr Newby to day had a chance to spread himself on matters of railroad grievances. The bill above mentioned being upon its passage, he whetted his hunting knife and went after Gaston and Holladay, giving a somewhat extended history of west side railroad transactions, omitting however to mention various facts concerning himself and the capitalists so called. He denounced the sale of the road to Holladay as a swindle upon the people. He [illegible] the people to [illegible] extent that he Newby had confidence in his intention to build a road on the west side. He (Holladay) had promised to pay the debts of the old company but had wickedly failed to do so. If Holladay had come out as he had "orter," he would not have objected to the passage of this bill, etc. Mr Hendershott wanted to know what the gentleman from Yamhill meant by [illegible]. Mr Newby explained that he meant had Holladay come out as he had "orter" and paid the debts of the old company [illegible]. The cat was thus [illegible] and it was not difficult to see what was the matter with the gentleman from Yamhill. He has, as I am informed, an unadjusted claim against the old company of about $3000. Had Mr Holladay come out and paid this claim Mr Newby would have had perhaps quite different views in regard to that gentleman, and perhaps in regard to this whole railroad question. I am further informed that it has not been many days since Mr Newby expressed himself to a west side Senator as decidedly in favor of the bill to amend the charter of Portland as above. His present attitude seems to have been assumed for the purpose of venting his spite upon Holladay, who bought a good thing from under him, and upon Gaston, who sold it. Nobody could have heard his speech to-day without arriving at that conclusion. I am curious to know how Mr Newby's constituents (I don't mean his senatorial constituents who elected him, but the people of Yamhill county—Dr Watt's constituents) will receive his opposition to the west side railroad.

WHEN THE MACHINE WILL STOP

Nobody knows when this Legislature [illegible] will pass. The House adopted a resolution to adjourn at 10 P M to night, but the Senate refused to agree, and so the whole matter is yet open. Both Houses have adjourned till 10 A M Monday, and a considerable number of the members have gone to Portland in "The President's car." It is generally doubted that a quorum will be here on Monday morning, and it is not certain that a quorum can be kept longer than Tuesday under any circumstances. So I am safe in saying that the final adjournment will take place as early as Wednesday noon.

Destructive Fire at Virginia City

VIRGINIA, Oct 23.—About 1 o'clock A M to day a fire broke out in a large unoccupied stable on South C street, two or three doors south of the Virginia House. Before the fire could be got under control fifteen or twenty houses were destroyed. The Virginia House, filled with lodgers, many of whom were women and children, took fire a few moments after the flames broke out, and the house and contents were entirely destroyed. The lodgers narrowly escaped with their lives. The fire made a clean sweep of everything on the east side of C street from the brick store of C A Johnson on the north to the street running down to the Gould & Curry office, and also burned from this space clean down on the west side of D street. The fire is supposed to be the work of an incendiary.

The Shivering Season

The loss to the laboring classes of the United States caused by fever and ague has been estimated at upwards of two million dollars per annum. Whole settlements are sometimes prostrated by the disease, and it is regarded in some localities as one of those visitations of Providence which cannot be avoided. This is a mistake. As certainly as any of the evils which are invited by neglect may be forestalled by precaution—so certainly may an attack of intermittent (or remittent) fever be prevented by [illegible] the system with Hostetter's Stomach Bitters in advance of the season at which this malady prevails. Prevention, it is needless to say, is the wisest policy, but [illegible] it known that where the [illegible] has not been taken by the forelock, and the paroxysms have actually commenced, a complete cure may in all cases be rapidly effected by the use of this powerful vegetable tonic. The reputation of the Bitters as a specific for dyspepsia, liver complaint, constipation and nervous debility has in some measure thrown into the shade its merits as a preventive and cure of other ailments, but all who have ever taken it, either as a protection against or a remedy for malarious fevers, will admit that it surpasses in efficiency all the so-called specifics (including [illegible]) usually prescribed for these maladies, while it is at the same time entirely harmless and decidedly palatable.

The Resolute brought the snag puller up the river last night and left it outside the channel on the eastern shore above Taylor street.

The Wasp propeller was being repaired yesterday at the foot of Morrison street. In order to get at it the boat's stern was partially lifted out of the stream by means of pulleys.

ASTORIA ITEMS.—Our regular contributor at Astoria sends the following under date of October 21st 1870:

The U S steamer [illegible] returned from Shoalwater Bay this afternoon, having completed the work of chaining the buoys in the bay. She will sail about Tuesday next for San Francisco.

The steamer Oriflamme arrived from Portland at 4 P M this afternoon and proceeded to sea. It was blowing and storming very hard when she went out.

The railroad surveying party are about half way down the Fish Hawk river, or about four miles from the Nehalem river. Mr Hurlburt, the principal surveyor, has gone to Portland from Nehalem on business.

The bark Zephyr arrived this morning from San Francisco.

It looks very much like "stern old winter" had really set in, the way it has been raining here to-day. It certainly can rain some when it tries.

Work on the custom house is suspended for the season except covering the walls with boards.

THE MONTGOMERY CASTLE.—Large numbers of people visited the fine iron ship Montgomery Castle, lying at the New York, China and Liverpool dock [illegible] day. Many of our citizens were introduced to Capt. Hughes, who is a very affable gentleman and one who has a just pride in being master of such a fine vessel. He is accompanied on this voyage by his wife and little ones, and seems to be as much at home, and as elegantly fitted and furnished for living as any of our leading [illegible] on land. This is her second voyage from home, having been built only last year. Her first voyage was from Liverpool to San Francisco, from which port she returned with 1,200 tons of wheat, of the crop of 1869, and it is expected she will take equally as much from here this time. When our wheat and other grain is shipped in such vessels as the Montgomery Castle, it ought surely to take the world by astonishment, and it cannot reach its destination in any other than good condition.

GRAND LODGE MEETING.—The following officers were elected for the ensuing year at the meeting of the Grand Lodge held at Oregon City last week: Grand Worthy Chief Templar, C Beal; Grand Worthy Counselor, Jacob Co[illegible]; Grand Vice Templar, Mrs M E Hunter; Grand Secretary, James A Smith; Grand Treasurer, J B [illegible]; Grand Worthy Assistant Secretary, A J Bobey; Grand Deputy Marshal, Miss Sarah [illegible]; Grand Guard, W. H Wilmot; Grand [illegible] J. W. Powell; Grand Chaplain, W. Harman. Representatives to the Right Worthy Grand Lodge of North America, F M Wadsworth and Mrs Sallie P Miller; Alternates, E F Ryan and Peter Paquet. There has been a prosperous Lodge during the past year. Fifty-[illegible] lodges were reported at the last year's meeting and seventy five at the meeting this year; total membership 2 290—gain from November 1, 1869, to August 1 1870, 1 402. The next Grand Lodge will be held at Salem on the [illegible] Tuesday in June 1871.

TO ALBANY AND BEYOND.—Superintendent [illegible] of the Oregon and California Railroad, informs us that the company have now iron sufficient to lay the track thirty miles beyond Salem. The favorable weather this season has given him opportunity to do a vast amount of work, and the construction is now so far advanced that no delays will be occasioned from high water after the rainy season sets in. The Santiam bridge is a similar structure to that across the Molalla. The iron has been laid about three and a half miles beyond Salem. Stages connect with the cars at Salem so that now a person can leave Portland at 7 30 A M and dine in Albany at 3 P M the same day. The railroad is in excellent order, and the trains move along as evenly and smooth as if the track had been ballasted in cement gravel for ten years.

CIRCUS STOPPED.—The Overland Circus troupe shipped for Monticello on board a scow to be taken in tow by the Wasp on Saturday night, but the entire programme was changed by the appearance of U S Marshal Young on board about [illegible] o'clock P M, when he proceeded to take in charge all the horses, wagons, etc., belonging to Messrs. Robinson & Lake, thus preventing the departure of the Troupe. We could obtain no particulars but understand that it is a case of "voluntary bankruptcy." Our sympathies are with Mr Lake, whom we regard as a very honorable upright man, and we know that if he is fully involved it is not in his nature to keep back one dollar for the purpose of defrauding a just creditor.

THE BERRY PATCH.—People in this country who have eaten Minnesota or Jersey cranberries any time within the scope of their recollection will remember how very nice they are, how far superior they are to any we get here, and they will receive the intelligence gladly that the Gray's Harbor cranberry swamp, and lands adjacent thereto, to the number of about 5 000 acres is soon to be made one vast cultivated cranberry patch. One thousand acres of this tract will be transplanted next year with Eastern plants, and by the third season thereafter, 1874, this country will be enabled to boast of rare productions in this line of fruit. This enterprise will pay bigger dividends than any banking establishment on the coast.

SHOOTING SCRAPE.—On Saturday night a man named John Walton entered the Empire Saloon on First street, kept by Frank Gatens, and being in a state of intoxication it is said became so boisterous as to render it necessary for the proprietor to order him out. He refused to obey the order and one angry word followed another until [illegible] drew his revolver and fired a shot at [illegible], the ball passing close to his head. Walton was taken off to jail and the matter will be inquired into this morning in the Police Court.

QUICK WORK.—At the fire last Friday in Oregon City, Cataract Hose Company with only four men ran with their cart a distance of a quarter of a mile, stretched six hundred feet of hose and had water playing in less than five minutes after they left their house. The hose companies there form the Fire Department with the Hooks, and they attach hose to the street mains at the fire hydrants. The boys [illegible] to compete for the honors of the [illegible] as well as any department we have ever seen.

FUNERAL SERVICES.—The funeral of Mr Thos Brennan yesterday was attended by a large delegation from the several fire companies of the city and the Hibernian Benevolent Society. The Band of the [illegible] Infantry was in attendance and led the procession. His remains were interred in Lone Fir Cemetery. The services were conducted by Rev Father [illegible] at the [illegible] Catholic Church.

PLENTY AND [illegible].—The granaries of this Valley were never before so full as now. The crops of 1870 have almost uniformly been thrashed and stored for shipment. We observe that many farmers yet pursue the plan of burning their straw stacks after thrashing. It seems to us that they thus impoverish themselves, but in a land so abundantly supplied these thousands of tons of straw may not be missed.

Judge Caufield has commenced the erection of a new sidewalk on his own account leading from his store to the summit on Seventh street. It is a very desirable improvement. A new lamp has been erected near the summit

The Imperial mills have added an east wing built up of solid plank laid flat and securely [illegible] and fastened [illegible] for the storing of wheat. The outside is finished similar to the main building and is equally as high

On Friday the city was threatened with de[illegible] from fire [illegible] time from [illegible] Capt [illegible] wishing to get rid of a lot of slabs which had accumulated near his Island saw mill set the pile on fire supposing the slabs to be so green that they would not burn to do any harm to the adjoining property. In this supposition he was mistaken for he had no sooner lighted the pile than the flames began to run and threatened at one time to destroy the Island mill and P T Co's breakwater in which case it would have more than probably taken in its course the Imperial Mills and all the docks of the P T Co. Capt [illegible] barely had time to make his escape we are informed and from the moment a fierce fight against the fire commenced, which lasted full four hours with all the force of the fire department. If it had not been for the pumps of the woolen mill and water company nothing could have saved the place and as it was there was barely enough hose to reach the flames. A strong south wind prevailed at the time and burning embers were carried half a mile high and away to the woods below

The Good Templars temperance meeting at the M E Church on Thursday evening it is said was the most memorable event of the temperance movement in Oregon. We have no further account of it than that the church building was crowded to the utmost extent of its capacity and hundreds were compelled to go away unable to obtain seats. Mutual good feeling and the greatest harmony characterized the proceedings of the evening. Excellent music was furnished by the choir in attendance at the meeting of the Grand Lodge Prof McGibeny and others. Addresses were delivered by several [illegible] of the Good Templar Order Messrs Harmon Conser Magone Gibbs Frush Dimmick Lewis and others

BILL TO ENCOURAGE IMMIGRATION

Mr Hendershott from special committee to whom was referred S B No [illegible] to encourage immigration reported [illegible] with amendment to fill the blank with $6 000. The question was taken on the amendment and it was lost

Mr Stout said he could see no reason why the appropriation should not be made. He thought the Senate did not wish to [illegible] object for which the [illegible] is asked is an important one. [illegible] for which appropriations had already been made to drain public lands to construct locks build wagon roads etc. It is important to the State that to [illegible] its resources we should have more population. That we ought to disseminate reliable information in regard to the resources of the State. [illegible] certainly [illegible]

Mr Hendershott [illegible] the bill [illegible] Mr Powell who introduced [illegible] had [illegible] to vote against [illegible] because he thought it [illegible] too much [illegible]

Mr Brown of Marion had opposed the bill of two years ago—to encourage immigration [illegible] it was extravagant. He favored the bill because the amount [illegible] is a fair one and [illegible] the State [illegible] afford

Mr Brown of Marion moved to fill the blank with $4 000

Mr Cochran objected

Mr Hendershott moved to reconsider the vote by which the Senate refused to fill the blank with $6 000 Agreed to

Mr Cochran resumed. He had seen in the newspapers [illegible] representations in regard to the country as were [illegible] calculated to deceive people in the East. If the Immigration Society should go on [illegible] such [illegible] calculated to do harm. He did not want any [illegible] representations made by any body to induce immigration. He wanted everybody to come as he did. A few members seemed to be working for glory

Mr Stout asked to have a letter of [illegible] from Alabama read. [The Clerk read the letter.] This letter he said was a sample of thousands sent to this State. The people of the States are anxious to learn [illegible] with a view of coming here. He [illegible] had many of them expended large sums of money in furnishing such information. They asked for this appropriation to aid the Labor Exchange to circulate documents to induce immigration. His action was in conformity with the wishes of his constituents and not for glory. He believed it important that the resources of the State should be developed if we do not want any more population. Why do we vote for measures to develop the resources of the State? What do we want locks and [illegible] wagon roads etc

Mr Cochran said the country already had more people than could find houses. There are thousands of [illegible]—men living on other men's farms because they could not find any for themselves which they were willing to live on because they could find no place to go to. A considerable portion of our present population were discontented and he was not in favor of introducing more people to come here to be disappointed. In relation to the various grants of land he did not think they were valuable. Much of the land is not worth twenty five cents an acre.

Mr Brown of Baker said that they wanted population in Eastern Oregon and if some of the people of the Willamette who were like a dog in the manger would send immigrants into Eastern Oregon the people of that part of the State would thank them for it. There are plenty of lands for settlers in Eastern Oregon. Population was the great need. It is necessary to publish information as to the resources of the State in order to get population. He thought the Labor Exchange could do better than private individuals. He had been asked by many of the best men in the State to go for this appropriation. He thought $5 000 a small sum to give for such a purpose. The State can afford to give that or even more

The question was taken on filling the blank with $5 000 and it was lost by a vote of 11 to 10

The question was taken on filling the blank with $4 000 and it was agreed to—11 to 10. Several messages from the House were read and then the Senate adjourned till [illegible] P M

Afternoon Session.

The reading of the bill created great laughter

Mr Trevitt moved to suspend the rules and read the bill [illegible] time by its title now

The President said that under the [illegible] which the Senate was engaged the [illegible] was out of order

Mr Trevitt asked for leave of absence for the balance of the session

A voice— You can't go

The President said that objection being made leave of absence [illegible] be granted

The Senate adjourned till 9 A M [illegible]

BAKER CITY ACADEMY

Mr A[illegible]—I moved to reconsider the vote by which Senate Bill No 40 An Act to loan $10 000 of the School Fund to aid the construction of an Academy at Baker City

Mr Dorris—I hope the House will not now begin reconsidering bills which we have rejected. We will probably adjourn in three or four days and we have no time to waste now

Mr Hayden—This is a bill to aid that common education which some gentlemen here are so fond of talking about and I don't see why they are [illegible]

Mr Hel[illegible]. The law now requires that this money shall be loaned upon real estate security of three times the value of the money loaned. This bill proposes to [illegible] by mortgage upon the building after [illegible]

Mr Hare—The present law makes it the duty of the Governor Secretary of State and State Treasurer as a Board to loan this money upon [illegible] security. I understand that the land upon which [illegible] institution is to be built is not held by a good title and I desire that the bill should be amended so as to provide against that difficulty. If it is to pass at all I think the bill is unnecessary however as the present Board have ample power to loan the school money. I think it comes with an ill grace from the gentleman from Polk to talk about assisting to build up institutions of learning after he has already opposed the school bill and voted to rob the school fund of $200 000.

Mr McClain said the title to the land, upon which the academy is to be built, is good.

The vote was reconsidered and the bill was read the second time

Mr Lockhart stated that Wm S Smith an educated deaf mute had traveled over the State and had ascertained that there were 33 deaf mutes in the State whose parents were not able to send them [illegible] away [illegible] to be educated

Mr [illegible] thought the proposition would involve the State in an indebtedness of not less than $3 000 for educating persons many of whose parents are able to educate the [illegible]. [The canal to be 28 feet in width at the bottom to contain at least 2½ feet of water at low tide. In case there are no funds in the treasury at the time the Governor is informed of the expenditure of $40 000 by the company the Secretary of State is directed to issue a bond made payable to the company, bearing [illegible] per cent [illegible]. After 25 years the sum is to be turned over to the State]

Mr Dorris [illegible] the best way to dispose of this bill will be to reject it at once. It provides for [illegible] there should [illegible] pay [illegible] becomes [illegible] State [illegible] cost of [illegible] greater than both the counties of Coos and Curry pay in taxes to the State.

The mouth of the Coquille is navigable. The country in that county embraces one of the [illegible] and is [illegible] the Pacific coast and also one of the finest coal fields on the coast. By means of this canal the commerce of that port will be vastly increased and the taxable property of the county enlarged likewise. The valuation of property would be increased five times its present amount. As I said before there is already a large commerce there. There are now 150 arrivals and 183 departures per year. The company will have to turn this over to the State after expending $225,000 of their own money

Mr Dorris said the State would pay $[illegible] in twenty five years, while the taxes of Coos and Curry counties pay only $[illegible]. He wanted to save time by rejecting the bill

The Senate [illegible]

SPECIAL ORDER—PORTLAND CHARTER AMENDMENT

Mr Burch from special committee to whom was [illegible] S B No [illegible] charter of Portland [illegible] reported the same back [illegible]

Mr Burch moved that the amendment [illegible] adopted which was agreed to

[illegible] passage of the bill

Mr [illegible]

It was ascertained that the petition was absent [illegible] Mr Penn[illegible]

Mr [illegible] directed the Sergeant at Arms to find Mr Penn[illegible] The Sergeant at Arms [illegible] a moment brought the petition and it was read

Mr Strahan spoke in favor of the passage of the bill. It was a measure demanded by the interests of the West side of the Willamette valley. It was the first [illegible] to which had offered any direct assurance of a railroad for that side of the river. The passage of the bill would not be detrimental to the property holders who would be called upon to contribute to the aid offered. The completion of the railroad would so enhance the value of property as to make them gainers. (In answer to Stout.) Had no doubt it would also enhance the value of all property in the counties on the west side. But those counties [illegible] willing to grant aid and will do [illegible] thought the bill was [illegible] violation of any provision of the Constitution. It was [illegible] a power not forbidden by the Constitution

Mr Stout did not know that he was taking a more active part in this matter than he ought to. He was [illegible] to oppose to ways by his constituents and was obliged to adopt that course which he thought right. Two years ago he had voted to give the East Side Company [illegible] land grant [illegible] though that Company [illegible] to build the road. The grant was given to build a railroad through the Wallamet valley not especially for East or West side. His conduct had given offence to some of his best friends but he acted as he thought right and would do so now. He was opposed to the bill because it compelled property holders to give money to aid the railroad, whether willing or not. If any choose to give money they could do it without legislation and he was willing [illegible] (In answer to Mr Brown of Baker)—The railroad as the law now stands is compelled to terminate at Portland with the [illegible] granted [illegible] the Company [illegible] cross the river at Oswego. They must build [illegible] land as the law stands now or they cannot obtain the land grant

Mr Baldwin had hoped when the bill was referred it would be amended so as to obviate all objections but it had not been amended so as to meet his views. The Legislature has no right to impose upon the citizens of Portland a tax like this without their consent. He would be willing to vote for the bill if it gave the people a chance to vote whether they wanted to give it or not. He thought it looked like a stupendous fraud—a fraud of such dimensions as he had never witnessed in legislation and such as he hoped he should never see again

Mr Cochran did not think the petitions or remonstrance amounted to much. People frequently sign such things to be accommodating. But if Senators proposed to excuse themselves on the ground that they had been petitioned why not give the aid just as it was asked for by the people of Portland? Mr Holladay has no right to exact this $300 000 of the people in consideration of building his road to Portland. He believed there was a good deal of humbug scare crow about the thing of crossing at Oswego, and that Mr Holladay would find it to his interest anyhow to build to Portland and also further up the valley than McMinnville. He discussed railroad operations on the east side and [illegible] the land grant by Albany till called to order by Mr Hendershott

The question was stated to be upon considering the bill engrossed and put upon its passage

Mr Strahan moved a call of the Senate. Carried

Mr Trevitt absent

On motion of Mr Mosher the further call was dispensed with.

Mr Newby had been a director in the West Side Railroad for three years and knew a thing or two about the peculiar to us which had been taken in railroad matters. His interest was all on the West Side. The building of the road would materially benefit him but he opposed the bill because he believed that if passed it would retard the road. He had no objections to the parties proposing to build it. [The gentleman then went into a metting up of a history of the West Side operations till called to order by the President, who said that a discussion of the affairs of the Oregon Central Railroad Co being foreign to the question, was not in order.] He said that the Oregon Central Railroad had been sold out to parties who had promised to build and who are able to [illegible] let them do it now without calling on the people for aid

Mr Brown of Baker did not wish to do anything against the interests of a west side road but he would oppose this bill because it had not [illegible] so as to protect the rights of the people of Portland

Mr Mosher was a disinterested juror upon this question. He believed that a railroad would greatly enhance the value of property not only at Portland but all along the west side of the river. It would be greatly to the advantage of all the west side country. Portland could well afford to pay as much as the bill calls for but he thought the bill asked too much. It proposes to take private property, and give it away without the consent of the owners

The vote being taken upon the passage the yeas and nays were as follows

Yeas Messrs Brown of Marion Burch Cornelius Hendershott Holtzclaw Moores [illegible] Powell Strahan Thompson Trevitt and the President 12

Nays—Messrs Baldwin Brown of Baker Cochran Crawford Hoult Llewellan Mosher Newby and Stout—9

ADJOURNMENT SINE DIE

H. J R 29 to adjourn sine die at 10 o'clock P M Saturday Oct 22, was received by message.

Mr Baldwin moved to amend by striking out 10 o'clock and inserting 6 o'clock

Mr Stout opposed the resolution and favored the continuance of the session till the important business pending be finished

Mr Burch in the chair

Mr Fay favored the concurrence of the resolution because the House had passed the resolution while yet there was a large number of Senate messages upon its table. The object was undoubtedly to force the Senate to take the responsibility of prolonging the session and he was in favor of taking them at their word and adjourning. He was satisfied that a quorum could not be kept here

Messrs Moores Cornelius and other opposed the resolution and were willing to stay here till all important business shall be completed.

The question being taken the Senate refused by a vote of 7 to 13 to concur in the resolution

Mr Hare deemed the bill necessary to protect the [illegible] women who have profligate husbands [illegible] not so much [illegible] Money lenders could [illegible] themselves against loss as well under the law as without it

Mr Alexander agreed with Mr Whalley. He believed [illegible] would be able [illegible] unscrupulous [illegible]

Mr Amis said he would be ashamed to go back to his constituency without saying a word in favor of the bill. He thought the bill would only be carrying out the liberal system of legislation in behalf of poor men as [illegible] by the homestead law of Congress.

Mr Hayden could not refrain from [illegible] regarded it as a [illegible] upon the common law. It would enable the dishonest to swindle his creditors

Mr Dorris (interrupting)—The law does not

Mr Hughes—The gentleman will keep still. I intend [illegible] and I will suffer no man to interrupt me

Mr Dorris—I did not wish to interrupt the gentleman [illegible] dishonest [illegible] to avoid paying their just debts. The bill does not apply to present debts

Mr Lockhart—I am not only in favor of this bill but also in favor of sweeping from the statute book [illegible] the system of [illegible] collections. It is well known that it costs more for collecting [illegible] payments by process of law than the entire interest of the money [illegible] amounts to [illegible] supports courts [illegible] and swarms of lawyers [illegible] eats out the substance of the people. On the basis of forced collections there is no one who can command capital except he has the equivalent to pledge as security for it. It does not permit the loaning of money upon the faith of the individual reputation and that is the true basis of all social relations. And hence without entering on a discussion of the matter I will say that I would be in favor not only of this law but of sweeping away the whole system of forced collections

Mr Carlisle thought the bill would encourage immigration

POSTPONING DEMOCRATIC ORGANS

S B —— an act to protect litigants, [authorizing the Governor to designate an official newspaper for each county which is to publish all legal advertisements] was read the first time

Mr Dorris moved to suspend the rules and read the bill [illegible] the motion prevailed and the bill was so read.

Mr Hayden moved to further suspend the rules and put the bill upon its passage

Mr Whalley thought the bill should be entitled "An Act to protect Democratic newspapers" or "An Act to compel litigants to contribute to the support of Democratic newspapers." He objected to the bill, that it was unjust to force persons having legal advertisements to make them publish them in papers against their will. Heretofore the matter has been left in the hands of the Judges who have allowed parties to select for themselves, and the proposition to give the Governor power to designate the newspapers is simply done for partisan purposes, and would result in the designation of party papers. The designation would be made in many cases if not in all without regard to the circulation of the newspaper

Mr Dorris did not regard it as a partisan measure. It would make a reduction of one third in the cost of advertising. In some counties there is but one newspaper [illegible] and that a Republican paper. Such paper would have to be designated. At present litigants are at the mercy of the printers.

Mr Hare had not expected to see the principle embodied in the Portland charter bill—that the people are not capable of self government—so soon applied to all the State. He regarded it as a declaration by the Legislature that the Democratic organs cannot exist without forced contributions. He believed it wrong in the principle and thought it should be defeated.

Mr Hayden defended the bill as simply transferring the power of designating the newspapers from the Judges to the Governor

Mr O'Regan looked upon the bill as a tendency toward centralization placing as it does power in the hands of one man which should be in the hands of the Judges.

The bill was passed—ayes 35 noes 15

TO ENCOURAGE IMMIGRATION

S B 79 An act to encourage immigration. [The bill proposes to appropriate $4 000 in aid of the Portland Labor Exchange]

Mr Criles—This bill proposes to take the money out of the Treasury for an improper purpose and I move to reject the bill

Mr Dorris—This bill claims to be in favor of immigrants [illegible] now. I think that good immigrants will come here without any such aid, and we don't want any but good immigrants. I am opposed to it

Mr Helm—There is another consideration: the bill is merely designed to keep up and foster a little corporation of gentlemen in Portland and so far as the State outside of Portland is concerned it would be just like sinking money [illegible]. As far as we can in a legitimate and economical way encourage immigration I am in favor, but I shall not vote for this bill.

Mr Whalley—It appears to me that the gentleman [illegible] the bill taken a novel view of the question of immigration. It is well known that all the Western States have been filled up by proper exertions in making known their resources, and thus inducing immigration. Now Mr Speaker the State of Oregon has been behind in this. Several enterprising gentlemen in Portland have seen fit to give their time and attention to this subject, and they have been quite successful in inducing [illegible] to come here. But the operations of that body of men have been somewhat cramped for want of means. They have furnished from their own private funds the money to carry on the work and they have been required to dive deeply into their pockets to carry out their plan which has been for the benefit of the whole State. Already the efforts of this association have induced a large immigration to this State, and not of that class who come here without money but many of the wealthy people who have come here and located some of them purchasing farms as will be evidenced from that report. The communication in Governor Grover's inaugural substantiates this statement. The money spent in this way will be a profitable investment for the State. It will induce people to come here to settle up the country and to increase the taxable property of the State thereby more than making up for the expenditure. Every individual who comes here and causes a blade of grass to grow where it never grew before will be a public benefactor. The bill is not designed to build up the city of Portland alone but its benefits will be realized all over the State [Cries of "Time, time."]

Mr Hare—I just want to say that I understand that this bill has passed the Senate. It was there properly [illegible] and discussed. I don't think it is showing proper respect for that body to reject its bills on the first reading. [They kill our bills.] It makes no difference if that body has treated us with disrespect. I shall not consent to treat its measures otherwise than with courtesy and due respect. It seems to me to be our duty to give this bill a proper consideration. If we meet on Monday let the bill go to its second reading, and then if we do not deem it a good bill we can reject it.

A Lodge That Wasn't a Lodge

Our hero [illegible] months ago just seemed to have taken a very great interest in a Lodge [illegible] some secret society somewhere in the city. This Lodge has met regular once a week and a special meeting has been held once a week to transact important business. That the business man has been an extremely regular attendant can be ascertained by interrogating his wife. The lady liked not the action of her liege and oftimes in tender words begged him to let the Lodge meet without him but on each occasion failed. He was one of the chief officers and the Lodge could not get along without him. A confiding and loving wife is one of the best household institutions in the world and are more easily imposed upon than any other human being, and we may add more frequently imposed upon. Yet when they do smell a mice they are the most cantankerous and perverse of all creatures. The wife of our hero became curious about the Lodge. The more she thought about the matter the more envious she became and she finally made up her mind to solve the mystery. Tuesday evening a special meeting was to be held so her husband informed her and after tea he donned his best wardrobe and set out. The wife in company with a lady friend followed. The husband made a bee line for a livery stable and procured a buggy and in the vicinity of the public park met a female who jumped in to the buggy with him. Wife was furious, and immediately chartered a buggy from the same stable and started out in search of husband and Lodge. They had gone though and were not to be seen. Wife in despair drove from point to point but no husband no Lodge could be seen. Providence guided the horse and about ten o clock he was cantering down toward Watson's Springs. The wife was so overcome with anger that she knew not nor cared she where her steed carried her. When in the vicinity of Watson's Springs wife experienced a jar, a scream followed—a female voice rang out in the night air in a terrible screech, a male voice said something that sounded like cuss words. She found herself and vehicle at a stand still, the wheels locked with the wheels of another vehicle. A careful survey of the grounds disclosed to her astonished gaze, a buggy with two wheels broken—and the Lodge and her husband standing near by. It is hardly necessary to state that a stormy time ensued. The result of the affair was Lodge walked home husband was forced to accompany the wife and one of our carriage shops got a job that will bring it about $50. We take this occasion to warn the numberless wives in this city, to be on the look out. If your husbands belong to a secret society by all means make it your business to know where the Lodge meets.

At Half Moon, Saratoga county, N. Y., a boy named Norman Shaw, aged about thirteen years, did something to displease his mother who, after correcting him said that she would inform his father of his conduct. Upon this the boy went and got the Bible, picked out a text from which he said he wanted his funeral sermon preached, and telling his mother that she would never see him again went out. This occurred about 10 o'clock and the mother deeming it some foolish threat went on with work. Eleven o'clock came, and the boy not returning, his grandmother went in search of him and found him [illegible] with a strap about [illegible] he had committed suicide. His funeral took place from the Baptist Church at Cohoes, and a sermon was preached from the text the suicide selected.

"[illegible]"—Two Dutch farmers at Kinderhook, whose farms were adjacent, were [illegible] when one heard [illegible] hallooing in the direction of a gap in a high stone wall, and ran with all his speed to the place, and the following brief conversation ensued:

"Shon, what ish de matter?"

"Vell, dan," says John, "I vas trying to climb on de top of dish high stone wall and I fell off, and all de stone wall tumbled down onto me, and has broken one of mine legs off and both of mine arms, smashed my rib in and dese big stones are laying on de top of mine body."

"Ish dat all?" says the other, "vy you holloa so big loud I tot you got de toofache."

ROBERT B SWAIN, President M L A
W H L BARNES, Vice President,
WM C RALSTON, Treasurer

After paying the expenses of the Entertainment and making the distribution of the Gifts as above announced, the balance will be applied to extinguishing the present indebtedness of the Mercantile Library Association.

Holders of tickets to which gifts may be awarded will receive the same on presentation of such tickets or coupons to the Business Agents of the Board of Trustees at their office, No. 318 California street, San Francisco.

NOTICE.

HOLDERS OF TICKETS to the GIFT CONCERT in aid of the Mercantile Library Association are hereby notified that the Concert is postponed until

Monday, October 31st, 1870

Unexpected interferences have operated to make this delay necessary to accomplish the result of freeing the Library from debt, without recourse to other privileges granted by act of the Legislature passed February 19, 1870.

This is positively the only postponement which will be made. The Concert will take place on the day above named, commencing at nine o'clock A. M. and to continue until all the gifts have been awarded.

The funds already in bank are considerably more than sufficient to insure the successful completion of the contract with the public.

The sale of tickets will positively close on Friday the 28th day of October 1870.

All tickets remaining unsold at that time will be withdrawn from sale and cancelled. They will be advertised by their numbers on the 29th day of October 1870 in one or more of the daily papers of this city. Any diminution thus made in the number of tickets to be drawn will not affect the number or amount of gifts. They will be as heretofore advertised to wit: 628 gifts amounting to $500 000 gold.

Ticket holders residing out of San Francisco will receive duly accredited lists of the awards of Gifts which will also be published in the leading San Francisco daily papers on the 1st November 1870.

Delivery of gifts will commence November 2d 1870 at the office No 318 California Street. [illegible] tickets to which gifts have been awarded. All gifts awarded to non residents will be held to their order and for their account.

TO THE UNFORTUNATE.

NEW REMEDIES, NEW REMEDIES!

Dr Gibbon's Dispensary,

623 KEARNEY STREET, NEAR COMMERCIAL, San Francisco. Established in 1854, for the treatment of Sexual and Seminal Diseases, such as Gonorrhea, Gleet, Stricture, Syphilis in all its forms, Seminal Weakness, Impotency, etc. Skin Diseases (of years standing) and Ulcerated Legs successfully treated.

Horrible Disease.

How many thousands of persons both male and female are there who are suffering out a miserable existence from the effects of secret indulgences or from virus absorbed into the system! Look at their pallid emaciated and disfigured faces and their broken-down constitutions disqualifying them for the happiness of marriage or the enjoyment of life. In this horrid situation thousands suffer until death closes the scene. Let parents, guardians, friends, attend to those who are suffering with any of these horrible life-destroying maladies, see that they are cared for and cured before it be too late. Send them immediately to Doctor Gibbon, a physician who has made private diseases his especial study for years and who is certain to cure the most inveterate cases without mercury or any injurious drugs. It is important to those who are afflicted or to those who are interested in the welfare of their friends to be careful of the many pretended doctors who infest all cities publishing their skill in curing all diseases in a few days imposing upon the public by using the names of eminent physicians from Europe and other places. Be therefore careful and make strict inquiry or you may fall into the hands of those charlatans.

Seminal Weakness.

Seminal Emissions, the consequence of self-abuse. This solitary vice or depraved sexual indulgence is practised by the youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited extent, producing with unerring certainty the following train of morbid symptoms unless combatted by scientific medical measures, viz: Sallow countenance, dark spots under the eyes, pain in the head, ringing in the ears, noise like the rustling of leaves and rattling of chariots, uneasiness about the loins, weakness of the limbs, confused vision, blunted intellect, loss of confidence, diffidence in approaching strangers, a dislike to form new acquaintances, a disposition to shun society, loss of memory, hectic flushes, pimples and various eruptions about the face, furred tongue, fetid breath, coughs, consumption, night sweats, monomania and frequently insanity. If relief be not obtained he should apply immediately either in person or by letter and have a cure effected by his new and scientific mode of treating this disease which never fails of effecting a quick and radical cure. Dr. G. will give One Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove satisfactorily to him that he was cured of his complaint by either of the San Francisco quacks.

MARRIED MEN,

Or those who contemplate marriage, who are suffering under any of these fearful maladies should not forget the sacred responsibility resting upon them nor delay to obtain immediate relief.

DOCTOR GIBBON is responsible and will give to each patient a written instrument binding himself to effect a radical and permanent cure or make no charge.

CURED AT HOME.

Persons at a distance may be CURED AT HOME by addressing a letter to Dr. G. stating the symptoms, length of time the disease has continued and have medicines [illegible] in a package [illegible] with full and plain directions for use, for Ten Dollars sent in registered letter or through Wells Fargo & Co.

Caution to the Unfortunate.

Beware of the San Francisco quacks and pretenders, who, with bogus sworn to certificates dupe the unwary. Some of the self styled doctors whose names are to be found in the daily and weekly newspapers of San Francisco and other places are tradesmen and became too lazy to work at their trades. Some are tinsmiths, shoe makers, newspaper carriers, intelligence office keepers, etc. Look over the San Francisco Directory and you will not find their Medical Institutes in it but you will find their former occupations in it. Look at the Directory for 1867 and 1868. The only way to avoid imposition is to make inquiry—it will cost you nothing, and may save you many regrets; for as advertising physicians in eight cases out of ten are bogus there is no safety in trusting any of them until you know who and what they are. Dr. Gibbon does not deceive people by exhibiting bogus titles, certificates, pretended patient's letters etc. Dr. Gibbon will satisfy persons who may call at his office of his ability to treat diseases that he proposes to cure.

Address DR. J. F. GIBBON, 623 Kearney street, corner Commercial, (Private Entrance on Commercial) San Francisco. Post Office Box 452.

REMEMBER TO PUT BOX 452 ON THE LETTER.

Consultations FREE.

Correspondents will please inform DR. GIBBON that they read his advertisement in the Daily Oregonian.

THE RIVERSIDE

HOMESTEAD ASSOCIATION

OF

EAST PORTLAND, OREGON,

IS NOW PREPARED TO RECEIVE [illegible] to their Stock.

Applications for ONE HUNDRED SHARES [illegible] before the books were opened, and a large [illegible] Shares have been taken.

The following extracts from the Or[illegible] will convey a good idea of the plan [illegible] the Association the location of the land [illegible]

RIVERSIDE HOMESTEAD [illegible]

This association of [illegible] an account a few days since [illegible] pose of shares. As it is with [illegible] Portland Homestead Association, [illegible] ganization of that kind in this city [illegible] well enough to state what are [illegible] the manner in which it is [illegible] operations. The purposes [illegible] Associations are not at all [illegible] dinary sense of the word [illegible] for the profits of their investment [illegible] ral advance in the value of [illegible] quent upon the co-operation of [illegible] —shareholders—and the advance [illegible] surrounding lands by reason of [illegible] population and demand for [illegible] still near, the city. The Riverside [illegible] Association has a fraction over [illegible] twenty acres of land situated [illegible] Brooklyn on the east side of [illegible] east boundary line being about [illegible] ferry landing at East Portland [illegible] in one strip along the Willamette [illegible] in length and another strip along the California railroad, half a mile [illegible] strips being connected near [illegible] rows of blocks (with a street [illegible] whole forming a figure [illegible] It is divided into 74 blocks [illegible] streets running at right angles [illegible] al lots along the river front [illegible] ber 600, worth $50 per share [illegible] a share thus [illegible] vided interest in the [illegible] tional shares are to [illegible] for the benefit of the [illegible] coming in for the [illegible] number of shares held [illegible] taken and the [illegible] mine to do it [illegible] will be put up [illegible] bidder the premium [illegible] the original price of [illegible] equally among the whole [illegible] Thus, if a person [illegible] and is willing to pay $100 [illegible] or less as the case may be [illegible] the lot or block as the [illegible] premium being divided among [illegible] of shareholders [illegible] everything is co-operative [illegible] tua! No man can make [illegible] out also making [illegible] shareholder. The sale [illegible] the property, by some [illegible] far below the first actual [illegible] liable to happen in the [illegible] tract of land must be [illegible] but considering the [illegible] vance on real [illegible] hood, and at East Portland [illegible] last year or two, it [illegible] values to go [illegible]

In the Riverside [illegible] tions seem to have been [illegible] monopolies of shares [illegible] buy more than the [illegible] three blocks, or twenty-four [illegible] terminating the operations [illegible] restricted in the [illegible] shares may pay down $50 [illegible] exempt them from all [illegible] pay $15 quarterly with an [illegible] share payable with the [illegible] liable in this interest [illegible] other) assessment of $2 [illegible] payment of the shares in full [illegible] as above, the holder is entitled [illegible] and his proportion of all the profits [illegible] all sources. No officer of the [illegible] any pay for [illegible] gets $25 per month [illegible] expenses must be light.

That part of the tract lying along [illegible] a high plateau, nearly level [illegible] above the water. There is [illegible] row of blocks but commands [illegible] Portland and the river for miles [illegible] stream. That part of the tract [illegible] railroad is [illegible] foot of [illegible] soil and adapted to gardening [illegible] tiful little stream of pure water [illegible] almost the entire length of [illegible] affording the means of irrigation [illegible] ficient to supply pure water [illegible] whole tract. There is not a [illegible] lot in the entire tract. Under all [illegible] tages, it would seem [illegible] be any chance of loss to share [illegible] year each shareholder [illegible] perfect title to as many lots as [illegible] represent or he may [illegible] vided with the Association [illegible] tion may exist.—Oreg[illegible]

THE RIVERSIDE HOMESTEAD [illegible]

We have been led to make these [illegible] fact that the subject of [illegible] skirts of this city and East Portland [illegible] discussed here among all classes [illegible]

Riverside just south of East Portland [illegible] been established. The [illegible] ing a little over a mile [illegible] shaped like the letter H [illegible] in length borders on the river [illegible]

From this portion of the [illegible] but a trifle above the other [illegible] forty or fifty feet above the river [illegible] sive view of Portland, East [illegible] the Willamette river for several miles [illegible] fertile and is partly covered with [illegible] tract of land just wide [illegible] with an avenue between them [illegible] of the H which has already been [illegible] the east. This last tract of land is [illegible] valley which is now under a high state of cultivation [illegible] Through its whole length runs a [illegible] of which is clear as crystal. With a [illegible] Association proposes to have water [illegible] pe[illegible] to every portion of the homestead.—Daily [illegible]
